Mitau to Initiate New Internship Program

By Bob Junghans

St. Paul, Minn.—Dr. G. Theodore Mitau, Chancellor of the State College System called for a new program to “help fashion the good society” at his inauguration here Monday.

Speaking at a banquet attended by nearly 350 educators, students, business and government leaders, Dr. Mitau called for a program of student internships in public service occupations.

“SUCH A PUBLIC service program, a quarter or two in length, could be effectively integrated into an 11-month academic calendar, permitting students to earn their degree within the customary four years,” he said.

This program would apply to short-term student work in libraries, hospitals, counseling centers, children's homes, schools, playgrounds and in government.

“Students who question the relevancy of the educational enterprise seems to feel that the professors and courses are strangely alienated from student concern with . . . the war in Viet Nam, changing attitudes on sex, poverty in the midst of affluence, racial bigotry and the secularization of life,” Dr. Mitau stated.

“What seems to be needed are larger scale co-curricular programs that can enlist students to do something of value for their fellow man. A carefully developed program of internship aimed at suitable placement, supervision and evaluation, could offer many state college students a sense of constructive community service, hopefully on a basis of mutual recognition of human capacities and human needs,” he summed up, adding that the Minnesota state college system was particularly well suited to such an educational innovation.

DR. MITAU was officially inaugurated as the first chancellor of the Minnesota State College System at an informal ceremony Monday afternoon at the State Capitol rotunda. Governor Harold Levander and State College Board President, Dr. Frank Chesley, officiated.

At the evening banquet in the St. Paul Hilton Hotel, guest speaker Dr. Samuel Gould, Chancellor of the State University of New York, championed undergraduate liberal arts education as an end in itself rather than as a feeder system for specialized graduate students.

“Liberal education of men and women should be the major goal of a state college system such as Minnesota's if we are to adapt to the changing world,” Dr. Gould said. “Our educational system has been plagued by inertia. It has not changed as the society has changed.”

He stated that student protest was a means to the needed change, adding, “But the young people who are protesting what is being taught and how it is being taught must remember that there is little to be gained if there is no connection between brilliance of mind and obligation. If you are to tear down values you must have something with which to replace them.

“NIHILISM is not healthy and it has brought about a wave of anti-intellectualism in this country.”

This has left the college and university with concern for its position in the general social fabric. The pressure of maintaining a good public image and constant economic pressure “has put the university in danger of losing its initiative in creating a climate for learning,” Dr. Gould summarized.

Chancellor Mitau had been on the Winona State campus Oct. 20-21 for an annual board meeting and for a question and answer sessions with faculty and students concerning the proposed Common Market program which was spelled out in the last issue of the Winonan.

New M.A. Degree Now Available at Winona State

A Master of Arts in Business Program for Winona State College has been approved by the State College Board.

The purpose of the new program is to offer the graduate knowledge of business operations and decision making. This will qualify them for positions of greater responsibility in American businesses. Since there are many persons employed in the Winona State College service area who did not major in business, the business faculty believes that the Master of Arts in Business program will be beneficial for graduates with non-business undergraduate majors, as well as those with business undergraduate majors.

Acceptable admission will be a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university. Every student must take an admission test for graduate study before completing 15 quarter hours of graduate work toward this degree, and there must be demonstrated a basic knowledge of principles in accounting, economics and statistics.

In order for a graduate student to take this program, his application must be approved by the Business Graduate Committee. Besides the student's undergraduate records, his approval will be based on the advocacy of the student's program of study by his advisory committee to demonstrate ability to pursue graduate work. A 3.0 grade point average is expected to be maintained.

There are also residence requirements for the Master of Arts in Business program. Prospective candidates for this degree must earn a minimum of 36 quarter hours of graduate credit from Winona State. The last eight quarter hours of graduate credit must be earned in residence and an enrollment in residence is necessary during the time which the degree is granted.

The program of study consists of 45 quarter hours. A minimum of 30 quarter hours of graduate credit must be earned in business and economic courses. Up to 15 quarter hours of graduate credit may be taken in related fields. Each student must demonstrate ability to carry on independent research on his choice of subject.

The need for this program of a master of arts degree with a business major is based on the fall quarter enrollments of business majors at Winona. The number of majors in the Department of Business Administration in the fall of 1967 was 385. This was a 224 percent increase over the 119 majors in the fall of 1960.

Anyone interested in this new program should contact the Graduate Office or Dr. Warren Marley, head of the Department of Business Administration.

Class Leaders Elected by 10% of Student Body

Only 10 percent of the student body turned out to vote for senior, junior and freshmen class officers Tuesday, Oct. 22.

The new senior class president is Jim Brodie, a history major from Miami, Fla. Brodie is a member of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity. Tom Hoffman will serve as vice president of the senior class. He is also a member of Sigma Tau Gamma. His hometown is St. Paul and he is majoring in business.

Senior class secretary is Kathy Bettcher from Richfield, a member of Delta Zeta sorority and an elementary education major. Bob Buckingham, a business major from Burnsville, was elected treasurer. Buckingham is president of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity.

Jim Dubsky is the newly elected junior class president. Dubsky is an education major from Berwyn, Ill., and a member of Sigma Tau Gamma. The junior vice president is Pliny Smith of Fridley, a social science major.

Linda Nelson became junior secretary and Bill Nemczyk was elected treasurer.

New freshman officers are: Tim McCarthy, Hastings, president; Bruce Stege, vice president; Connie Ryan, secretary, and Libby Rockwell, treasurer.

Sophomore class elections were held last spring. Steve Holubar is serving as class president.

Katherine Bacon

2nd Tri-College Event is Recital

In the next two weeks Winona State College students will have the opportunity to attend two very fine musical performances.

On Nov. 7, Miss Katherine Bacon, a distinguished British concert pianist and instructor at the Julliard School of Music, will perform in Somsen Hall Auditorium at 8:30 p.m. The accomplished Miss Bacon will play selections from Cesar Frank, Saint-Saens, Mozart, Liszt, Albenez, and Chopin.

Of her, the Washington Post says, “An amazing gift . . . the ability to make all she plays sound spontaneously re-created.”

Then, on Nov. 6 at 8:15 p.m., the College of St. Teresa will host the Fine Arts Quartet, the second feature in the tri-college series.

Players First Effort; Sheridan's 'The Rivals'

With the opening of the Wenonah Players' fall production of Sheridan's “The Rivals,” in Somsen arena theatre of Winona State College at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 1, the cast and crews are putting the final touches on the show.

“The Rivals” is a classic example of the comedy of impersonation or mistaken identity. The main plot revolves about a potentially rich young Capt. Absolute, son of a baronet, who entertains expectations of 3,000 pounds a year, and who masquerades as a half-pay ensign in order to win the affections of the sentimental Miss Lydia Languish.

The show will run nightly through Nov. 8. The public is invited. The college box office in Somsen Hall will open Oct. 28. Reservations may be made in person, by mail or by telephone at the college. Tickets are also available at Ted Maier Drugs in downtown Winona.

Design and construction of the set is in the charge of Jacques Reidelberger of the speech department and his stagecraft class.

Student crews for the show are: assistants to the director, June Courteau, St. Paul, and Patricia Tolmie, St. Charles; production manager, Mike O'Toole, Luverne; business manager, Paul Skattum, Hills, Minn.; house manager, Gary Schmidt, Houston; head technician, Terry Wobig, Minnesota City.

Members of the cast are: Fag, Lawrence Shea and Dennis Roemer; Thomas, Steven Smith and Michael O'Toole; Lucy, Kathleen Russett and June Courteau; Lydia, Jeanne Morrison and Sheila Gehling; Julia, Leslie Midkiff and Karen Jostad; Mrs. Malaprop, Patricia Peltier and Diane McNally; Sir Anthony Absolute, Mark Orlowski and Robert Buss; Captain Absolute, Michael Sheimo and Mark Pint; Faulkland, Allan Haynes and Bruce Hittner; Bob Acres, Dennis Bell and Bruce Danielson; Sir Lucius O'Trigger, John Heddle and Donald Anderson; David, Paul Skattum and Daryl Bronniche, and Servants, Carol Pedretti, Susan Hoblit and Candy Kobler.

Vox Populi

Dear Editor:

We would like to correct several erroneous statements made in the October 11 issue of the WINONAN titled "Moorhead State Faculty Advisor Quits".

First and foremost, the MISTIC is not the equivalent of the WINONAN. If it were, we'd close down tomorrow!

Also, the MISTIC hasn't been under direct control of the administration for several years. There always has been, in the history of the newspaper, a faculty adviser who has some control over the paper. The adviser does what his title implies—he advises. He doesn't rule like "a little Greek god" as your article implies.

The paper is "controlled" by an Editorial Board which has been in existence for some time now. This board is the only body which can exercise any type of "direct control" over the paper. This board consists of: a faculty member appointed by the President of the college; the faculty adviser (who is appointed by the President upon the recommendation of the newspaper); a student appointed by the Student Senate; and the Editor and Business Manager of the paper itself.

The paper is not without an adviser, as you strongly implied in the article. One was appointed by President Dille less than 48 hours after Mrs. Selberg's resignation was made known.

You were also in error when you referred to the "series of stories using words generally considered profane." It was not a series of stories but one factual news article entitled "Chicago, August 1968, When the Ship Came In" by Jerome Clark. It was in two parts which appeared in the first two issues of the MISTIC, September 20 and 27. This was the only place where any "profanities" have appeared. We have received strong support of other editors (Dakota Student, U. of North Dakota, and Spectrum, North Dakota State University), and have received tacit support of the Minnesota Daily.

ED. NOTE: Better contact the Associated Press, Mistic Staff, that is where the news item originated.

Mr. Nathan Forrest:

When was football friendly? When on the field your only friends are your teammates, after the game is a different question.

Men who have had a past history of medical ailments should not play any sport without first consulting a doctor.

The intramural sports program at WSC is designed to provide opportunities for students and staff to participate in competitive and non-competitive organized and informal sports activities as regularly as their time and interests permit and facilities and staff are available. This is accomplished by taking part in one or both of two basic aspects of the program: (1) organized and competitive, (2) informal, self-directed, less competitive.

Football is a game to be played in all types of weather. An example of this is the WSC and Mankato State game. Oct. 9 the intramural games were cancelled because of wet fields not because of the weather.

Mr. Forrest, where are these big brutes you referred to in your letter to the editor. There are very few men over 200 pounds who play intramural football.

Mr. Stadler (intramural director) has worked hard to set up an intramural program which would benefit all college men. To show the extent of his successfulness your complaint is the first one to my knowledge to be expressed openly in the "Winonan".

Whenever you participate in athletics you give 100 percent to win. If you don't you let your team down and most of all yourself.

Fremling Publishes Paper

A paper written by Dr. Calvin R. Fremling Professor of Biology at Winona State College, has been published in the September issue of the American Biology Teacher. The article, "An Experiment in Diffusion, Water Pollution, and Bioassay Using Polyethylene Film as a Semipereable Membrane", describes how new research techniques developed at Winona State College can be adapted for teaching fundamental biological concepts.

Biafra Relief

The Biafra - Nigerian Relief Committee has two events scheduled for November. The proceeds will go to buy food for the starving in Biafra and Nigeria.

There will be a fast on Nov. 11 for all students eating at the food service in the Commons. On Nov. 6-7 there will be people in the check lines to take the names of those wishing to miss their evening meal on Nov. 11.

There will also be booths in the Student Union and in Somsen Hall on Nov. 6-8 to sell "Biafra" buttons and accept donations for the starving.

Proceeds from both these events will go through the International Red Cross and UNICEF to feed the starving.

Hibbs Speaks to Accounting Club

Ray Hibbs, a faculty member of Winona State College last year, will address the WSC Accounting Club Nov. 12 in dining rooms A and B in the Student Union. Hibbs, now associated with a public accounting firm in the Twin Cities, will speak on "Beginning a Career in Accounting".

At the last meeting of the Accounting Club Jeffrey B. Stoll was elected president, Dick Nelson vice president, Robert Withrow secretary and Douglas Law treasurer.

Advisors for this year are Mr. Robert Ferris, Mr. Duane McKay, Mr. Reginald Rezac and Mr. Kenneth Streeter.

The Accounting Club is open to all business students. Meetings are open to all students.

I Like It Here

by GRIM GEORGE

I am sitting here at my desk. As I look out the window I notice one thing in particular. I see that the trees have lost their clothes. Unlike the human, the tree looks rather naked in the nude. I doubt that the tree is embarrassed though. For now it has a better view of the world around it.

But as I look more closely I notice that the tree is not as happy as I thought. Upon asking the tree why it was so forlorn, it said, "For 18 years I have stood on this same spot and watched students and teachers come and go. Each morning students with sleep in their eyes walk to school. Each evening I see these same students return home, heads down and feet dragging. What is wrong with them?"

I asked the tree to explain further. The tree then went on to explain what it thought was wrong. "I don't mind when the students drag their feet on the way to school, but why do they look so dreadful when they come home? I should think that their heads would be buzzing with new ideas and questions from the day spent in classes. But they don't seem excited at all about learning. I think something during the day would spark their mind. Don't any of the ideas presented in their classes ever challenge them to ask the question, 'Why?'"

I told the tree that there was no need for the students to ask the question why. All that the school really required was that you copy the facts given by the teacher and regurgitate them on the test. How much one can memorize will determine one's grade. And that is all most people are interested in. Whether a person wonders why or why not is of no importance. The school does not grade you on imagination and creativity—only on how much of what you are told you can remember.

The tree had only one more thing to say, "I really don't envy you students at all. I am gaining much more of an education by merely remaining a non-thinking plant."

Editorials

What I didn't say between the first and second paragraphs in the last editorial was that I didn't attend the second SDS meeting because I was detained at the Democratic party headquarters on Third Street.

Standing behind a counter filled with HHH paraphernalia, a matronly Hubert supporter was lecturing us on the virtue of Chicago mayor Richard Daley and his police department.

Having been present in Chicago during the convention, we heartily disagreed with the actions of both. As the argument grew more heated, I walked a friend, Al Davis, self-proclaimed moderate conservative (mild-mannered political) reporter for the Winona Daily News.

He was taking his son to the campaign headquarters of both parties so the young man could choose for himself.

The conversation was only a few minutes old when Mr. Davis joined yours truly in the argument with said HHH advocate. We agreed that some of the protesters present had acted illegally, but we also felt that Mayor Daley's blue-hats had compounded the problem.

Not the case, said female Humphrey supporter. The fault was solely the hippies and Sen. Eugene McCarthy's who could have stopped the entire situation if he wanted to.

The upshot of the situation is this: female politician is Democrat which supposedly means more liberal than Republican (Davis). The argument placed us on the political continuum of: yours truly, left; Davis, center, and female Democrat, right.

Continuing in the political vein, a recent editors' poll by the Associated Collegiate Press shows that 50 per cent of college newspaper editors will vote for Mr. Nixon, 37 per cent for Vice President Humphrey, 1½ percent each for Mr. Wallace and Mr. Dick Gregory and 10 percent are undecided.

What is rather astonishing, however, is that 91 percent of all those who replied, felt that Nixon would be the next president, while only seven percent bet their bankrolls on Humphrey and two percent were undecided.

This appears to be a highly realistic outlook; much more realistic and rational than some of the emotional gutterwash shoveled out in the line of campaign rhetoric by the people who are supposed to be the nation's leaders, and which we are expected to gobble up as gospel.

Personally, my voting next Tuesday will be limited to Congressional, state and local offices. I'm tired of having to pick between the lesser of evils.

Nothing would be more effective than a record turnout at the polls, but with a large portion of that turnout leaving the presidential choice blank. This refusal to choose between evils might awaken at least one of the major parties and get it back in step with the public's wishes—if for no other reason than the fear that the other party might do it first—and thus forge a new coalition which is not bound to the system of party hacks, favoritism and patronage which is the rule of thumb in the major parties.

W.S.C. Debate Team Divides In 1st Outing

The Winona State College debate team, under the direction of Mr. Norbert Mills, returned from the Oct. 22 Macalester Invitational Debate Tournament with the taste of both victory and defeat, compiling a 2-2 record in that St. Paul tournament.

Chosen by Mills to represent Winona in the year's first debate encounter were Bob Grim, L. J. Turner, Mark Nolan, and Gene Larrabee. Grim and Turner comprised the affirmative half of the four man team, while Nolan and Larrabee argued the negative side of this year's debate resolution; "Resolved: That executive control of the United States' foreign policy should be significantly curtailed."

Each two man team finished 1-1 for the day's action as the affirmative defeated Bethel while losing to River Falls; and the negative beat Bethany and lost to Moorhead.

An overall record of .500 or better is required to gain eligibility for the National Debate Tournament held annually at the conclusion of each debating season.

Berkeley Rioting Over Class Cancellations

This is the first article from our roving correspondent Steve Johnson. He is presently covering the latest activities at the Berkeley campus. We have his address and any correspondence you wish to have with him can be channeled through the Winonan.

Berkeley, Calif.—A long standing controversy involving a social analysis course taught by presidential candidate Eldridge Cleaver has boiled over into open confrontation as 1,000 police patrol the turbulent campus.

Close to 200 students have been jailed in this most recent outburst, and the debris of battle litters this large and beautiful campus.

Student Views of Paper Expressed in Questionnaire

By Sue Westlund and Gene Larrabee

In an attempt to discover student feeling concerning the "Winonan," a poll was conducted by "Winonan" staff members in an effort to reveal these feelings. One hundred Winona State students answered the following queries:

1. Do you think that publishing of the "Winonan" once a week keeps you well-informed on school activities and news?
2. Would you favor a twice weekly "Winonan"?
3. Would you be willing to pay a set fee in order to provide for this service?

Here are the results of that poll:

	Frosh.	Soph.	Jun.	Sen.	Totals
Ques. 1	21 yes 7 no	14 yes 10 no	17 yes 8 no	15 yes 8 no	67% yes 33% no
Ques. 2	20 yes 8 no	14 yes 10 no	15 yes 10 no	16 yes 7 no	65% yes 35% no
Ques. 3	16 yes 12 no	13 yes 11 no	10 yes 15 no	16 yes 7 no	55% yes 45% no

In addition to answering questions, students gave opinions as to what they would like added or detracted from the paper.

The opinion received most often favored an eight-page publication similar to the homecoming edition, rather than two smaller papers per week. Realizing that an eight-page paper would create a need for an additional funds, most people who expressed this opinion felt that a subscription fee paid at tuition time would be acceptable.

Another complaint often expressed by the polled students was the "Winonan's" persistence of a "Baranski Image," referring Senate reporter was a senator, this created a prejudicial air in Senate reporting. They called for an independent Senate reporter.

These are the results of the poll. The "Winonan" would like to express thanks to those who took time to state opinions; and invites anyone to inform the "Winonan" of other ideas they feel might be of aid.

New Hours for Library

Mr. Edward Jacobsen, head of the Winona State College Library staff, has announced that the library will have new hours and will be open on Sunday.

The Sunday hours will be from 2-5 p.m. Hours Monday through Thursday will be from 8:00 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. On Fridays the library will open at 8 a.m. and close at 5 p.m. On Saturdays the library will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

According to rules laid down during the Free Speech Movement of 1964, the faculty and students here created a new course—Social Analysis 139X—to study racism in America. Of the 20 lectures provided for, 10 were to be given by Cleaver, candidate of the Peace and Freedom ticket and a member of the Black Panthers. All arrangements for the establishment of the course were carried out within existing rules and with administration approval.

Governor Reagan and the Board of Regents however, declared the course illegal and ordered the administration to cancel the course and refuse Cleaver the use of campus facilities.

The Academic Senate of the faculty has endorsed the course and criticized the Regents for their opposition to free speech. Since school began many attempts have been made to regain credit for the course which was cancelled too late for the 100 students enrolled to apply for another course.

Having exhausted all legal channels, the campus has boiled over and the students took their complaints to the streets.

Tuesday afternoon, 121 students staged a non-disruptive sit-in in Sprout Hall, the Administration Building. They refused to leave when the building was closed and 200 police were called in. Meanwhile thousands of students demonstrated in support of the sit-in, hampering police. Bonfires were set on Sprout Plaza and nearby Telegraph Avenue. The 121 members of the sit-in were taken without resistance to Santa Rita Prison Farm and booked.

The following Wednesday evening about 80 students barricaded themselves inside Moses Hall as several others built street barricades outside the building and around campus to slow down the coming police assault. Throughout the night, rock music and bonfires filled the campus with a carnival atmosphere.

But shortly before dawn the police came—1,000 of them—armed with tear gas and shotguns. The unarmed students in the streets retreated. The students in Moses Hall voted to surrender and 79 were arrested and hauled away.

As students arrived for morning classes, they found the police army just leaving and a general student strike already in progress.

Sitins occurred in several other buildings late Thursday, but little has happened since then.

Students want credit for SA139X or they want the university closed.

Winona State "11" Ties for NIC Title

Winona State College captured a share of the NIC title as it belted Moorhead State 13-0 last Saturday at Maxwell Field.

"I have never seen a team with more heart," exclaimed beaming Warrior coach Moon Molinari. "The kids really showed me the great desire that makes a football team great." The Warriors were minus eight starters and were playing with a makeshift defense.

"I SUPPOSE I could single out the entire defense for the excellent job they did, but then on the other hand I could single out the entire offensive unit for controlling the football the way they did. Actually, we had 11 standouts out on the field for every play. The kids gave 100 per cent."

The Warriors, who two weeks ago barely edged Michigan Tech 12-8, stopped the NCAA's small college leading rusher Mike Quirk and picked off four Moorhead passes.

The Warriors struck for six points with just 24 seconds remaining in the first half, Don Rajtora hit Harry Mitchell with a touchdown pass which covered 39 yards.

EARLY IN THE fourth quarter linebacker Rog Jehlicka picked off a Moorhead pass and returned it to the Moorhead three. Sophomore fullback Ron Fuglestad then scored on the first play from scrimmage. Keith Comeforo added the point making it 13-0.

Saturday the Warriors face Hillsdale College of Hillsdale, Mich., in a 1:30 p.m. game at Maxwell Field.

"Hillsdale's 4-3 on the season but they've faced some real tough teams," admitted Molinari. "Last Saturday they defeated Northern Michigan which was seventh ranked among small college teams. They'll be real tough."

W.S.C. Harriers Run Second in Dubuque

The Winona State Cross Country team dropped their season record to 3-7 Monday as the harriers lost their third straight meet at the hands of Luther College, 16-41.

Last Wednesday the harriers traveled to Dubuque, Iowa, only to be outclassed by Loras, 15-49. Loras's runners finished in the top six spots while Al Gilman finished seventh for the Warriors. Don Rahman, Steve Rose and Bob Hempy were the next to finish for Winona.

Al Gilman again led the Warrior harriers, finishing fifth with a time of 22:09 minutes over the 4.2 mile course. Don Rahman, Steve Rose and Bob Hempy finished 8th through 10th for Winona against Luther.

This Saturday the harriers travel to St. Cloud where they'll compete for the NIC conference championship.

Coach Martin Welcomes 10 Lettermen

By Mike Stiever

Warrior swim coach John Martin welcomed 10 lettermen back as the tankers began their first week of workouts at the Memorial Hall pool Oct. 15. In all, 23 candidates reported, including 13 freshmen.

Among the veterans were co-captains George Kazika and Pete Kopercinski. Kopercinski is a butterfly and Kazika a freestyle swimmer. Two time All-American Larry Calvert, a backstroke and individual medley swimmer returned after being sidelined last year and gives the team depth. Junior breaststroker Terry Vogt and freestylers Jim Dubsy, Greg Brand, Bill Braun and Rick Kruger along with butterflyer Bob Ball and diver Don Leao were the other letter holders who reported for practice.

"Last year we finished with a 7-5 record but this year we'll definitely improve on that," said Martin. "This year we'll have something we've never really had before—depth!"

"Probably our strongest events will be in the freestyle events. Twice All-American Kazika and freshman Ron Calvert seem to be our best freestylers right now but with only two weeks of practice I can't really say," added Martin.

Larry Calvert, who was sidelined last year for medical reasons, placed second in the 200 and 400-yard individual medley in 1966 and second in the 100 and 200-yard backstroke in the NAIA national tournament in 1967 as he became an All-American for the second consecutive year.

George Kazika also holds a number of awards from the NAIA tournaments. George placed third in the 200 and 1650-yard freestyle races and fifth in the 500-yard freestyle last year. He also became an All-American swimmer for the second consecutive year in doing so.

"I'm expecting a lot from the freshmen this year. They've got some strong swimmers and the success of the team will depend on how well they'll develop," summed up Martin.

The tankers open their 1968-69 season with a telegraph meet slated for Nov. 26 with teams from Washington, Pennsylvania, New York and Arkansas. Each team swims in its own pool, records their times and telegraphs the results to Conway, Ark., where the results are compiled and the results are then sent back to the individual colleges.

The tankers open against live competition on Dec. 7 when they travel to Oshkosh for the Titan Relays. The Warrior swimmers won't appear home until Jan. 10 when they face Hamline in a dual contest.

Women Tankers Drop 1st Meet to Teresa's

Despite numerous first places the College of St. Teresa defeated Winona State's women's swim team 64-48. Those placing first were: Jackie DeLong in the 40-yard butterfly and 80-yard individual medley; Rosie Marz in the 20 and 40-yard backstroke; Jane Topping in the 20-yard butterfly, and Rosie Marz, Jeanne Berndt, Jackie DeLong and Kathie Jahn placed first in the 80-yard medley relay.

The women's swim team will have its next meet Saturday, Nov. 9, at 10:00 a.m. with Mankato, Gustavus Adolphus, Bemidji and St. Teresa at Winona State.

Women VB Teams Win

On Oct. 22, the women's volleyball teams, both the A and B squads, defeated teams from the College of St. Teresa. This Saturday the volleyball teams will meet Carleton in Memorial Hall at 1:00 p.m.
